

Letter of Recommendation
Randolph Koch

May 30, 2006

To Whom It May Concern,

I met Randy approximately 7 years ago through a workplace ministry that he started called VC Fellowship at Nike. Over the years Randy has been a terrific brother in Christ. He is quick and eager to pray for you, to offer counsel when appropriate and to just lend an ear.

Randy is a humble servant of Christ and, from everything that I've seen, is patient in waiting on the Lord in all things. Randy was obedient in answering the Lord's call to minister to those in the workplace at Nike. This was no easy task as Nike was not exactly warm to the idea. Randy prayed, lobbied and worked with the powers at Nike in a loving way and finally received the approval to proceed with the ministry. God has really used Randy's gifts of patience and persistence as VC Fellowship has blessed so many people. Randy is very humble about this ministry and is the first to give all credit and glory to Jesus... he is a willing servant.

VC Fellowship has been a terrific beacon of light to me, personally. The daily devotionals, prayer and fellowship that Randy leads are a great encouragement and something that is really needed in a workplace where there is a lot of spiritual warfare. Looking back, God used Randy and VC Fellowship to help me grow and mature through some challenging times during the 8 years that I spent at Nike. I am grateful.

Randy has been diligent in communicating and ministering on a regular basis even with a busy work schedule, church involvement, the many demands of school and the responsibilities of his family.

I would enthusiastically recommend Randy for a position in ministry. His work with VC Fellowship has clearly shown that he is a servant leader. God has blessed him with a wonderful ear, a clear and simple communication style, and, a heart for counseling.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions or clarifications.
